

Center for Excellence in Teaching, Learning and Innovation
Van Pelt-Dietrich Library Center
3420 Walnut Street
Philadelphia, PA 19104-6206

December 18, 2023

Vivek Sharma
4525 Walnut St Apt 314
Philadelphia, PA 19139-4654

Dear Vivek,

You have earned the CETLI Teaching Certificate. Congratulations! Let me recognize and commend you for that accomplishment.

As you know, by completing the Certificate program you have demonstrated a laudable dedication to your teaching. You have met or exceeded the program's requirements that you participate in five teaching workshops; teach for two semesters; have one of your classes observed, recorded and reviewed; and develop and discuss a statement of your teaching philosophy. Your efforts to reflect on your teaching practices and goals, and to consider other approaches – as indicated by this certificate – deserve credit.

Because the CETLI Teaching Certificate is the University of Pennsylvania's statement that a graduate student has pursued advanced training for teaching on the college or university level, the Certificate will be noted on your transcript. It will appear as, "Certificate in: College and University Teaching."

Let me once again congratulate you for your dedication to and work on your teaching.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Bruce Lenthall".

Bruce Lenthall
Co-Executive Director, Center for Excellence in Teaching, Learning and Innovation
Adjunct Assistant Professor, History